This task is to be selected by the user if appropriate. Criteria operate, meaning that the documents will not merge if the field “Defence Received” shows a value of “Yes”. This is intended to prevent inadvertent merging of these documents where a Defence has been received and the user has taken positive action to note the fact, but also means that even if the user has failed to select a value for the field they’re not prevented from merging the documents.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

I write to report that I have now received the Defence of from the other party's solicitors setting out exactly which aspects of the claim are disputed.

At this stage of the case the Defendant can deny or not admit, various aspects of the claim. Although the Defence gives some explanation of the reasons for admissions and denials made, it may only be at a later stage, after evidence is exchanged, that we understand the full reasons for the terms of the Defence and whether the stance taken by the Defendant can be justified by the evidence.

I enclose a copy of the Defence. As you will see, this sets out the Defendant's response to the Particulars of Claim which gave your case. However it may be useful if I summarise the points taken by the Defendant and the way in which the Defence defines the issues.

(1) The role of the Defendant is { MERGEFIELD TK_DEFENCE_TKDEF1_ROLE }.

{INCLUDETEXT

"C:\\Users\\rebecca\\AppData\\Local\\Packages\\PraccticeLimited.OspreyApproachSupervisor
App_expxx2x1s6rv4\\LocalState\\OspreyDocuments\\ea449dd6-d12a-4645-9397-4149e85cb081\\footer.doc"}

- (2) Your role is { MERGEFIELD TK_DEFENCE_TKCLI_ROLE }.
- (3) The fact of the accident is { MERGEFIELD TK_DEFENCE_TK_FACT_ACC }.
- (4) The cause and circumstances of the injuries are { MERGEFIELD TK_DEFENCE_TK_INJ_CAUS }.
- (5) The allegations that the injuries were caused by the Defendant's fault are { MERGEFIELD TK_DEFENCE_TKDEF1_FLT }.
- (6) The injuries suffered are { MERGEFIELD TK_DEFENCE_TK_INJ_SUFF }.
- (7) The expenses and losses claimed as a result of the injuries are { MERGEFIELD TK_DEFENCE_TK_EXP_LOSS }.

Either

[Although I need to detail the points taken by the Defendant please do not think that the Defence necessarily undermines your case – a Defendant may often deny or not admit liability, even though ultimately the Defendant recognises that the court may find in your favour on this issue.]

Or

[It is encouraging that the Defence formally accepts responsibility for the injuries. As I would never expect a Defendant to admit the nature and extent of the injuries, losses and expenses, the terms of the Defence are the best we could hope for at this stage.]

The Defence is intended to set out precisely the Defendant's position, and supersedes any points or concessions that may have been made before. Usually the Defence sets out the Defendant's final position, although the court can subsequently allow any part of the Defence to be amended. If there should be an amendment to the Defence at a later stage, I will advise further.

[The Defence does therefore supersede the admission previously made by the Defendant. It is regrettable that after making this admission the Defendant now seeks to withdraw it. I have in the circumstances asked the Defendant to explain why the earlier admission is to be withdrawn. Once I have a response I will be able to advise whether I think the court will allow the Defendant to withdraw the admission or if it may be possible to ask the court to rule that the Defendant must stand by the admission made previously. For the moment I must advise on the basis of the Defendant's case as set out in the Defence.]

[The Defendant has sent with the Defence a request for some further information concerning the background to the claim. Again, this is quite usual practice and one of the reasons why I have tried, so far as possible to obtain very detailed instructions from you at the outset. Whilst I have much of the information necessary to respond to the request for additional information, there are some points upon which I should like to obtain your further instructions.

It may not be appropriate to give answers to all the questions at this stage and in any event, you may not be able to be specific about some of the points raised. However I shall be grateful if you can consider what information it is possible to give above and beyond that which I already have from you.]

Generally, I think it will be useful to meet at this stage so that we can discuss points arising out of the Defence.

Now that we know the Defendant's exact position on the various aspects of the claim, I am reviewing the case generally so that we can be satisfied that all aspects have been properly put before the court in the statements of case and checking to see if there are any points the Defendant should be asked to clarify or answer. More generally, I will now review the evidence on the basis of the statements of case to ensure that evidence will be ready for exchange by the appropriate time and deal with the matters that remain in dispute.

I will let you know when we are ready to move on to the exchange of evidence with the Defendant. Meanwhile I anticipate that the court will require reports from the parties suggesting how the case should best proceed. I will advise further once I am ready to make this report to the court.

Yours sincerely

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

I am now about to deal with the stage in your court case known as 'disclosure'.

You will know, from my letter summarising the steps in the court proceedings, that this stage of the case involves disclosure of relevant documents. I must therefore prepare a list of all documents you have, or have had, relating to the claim. This list must be filed at court and sent to { MERGEFIELD TK_PIDEF1DETAIL_tkDEF1FORENAME } { MERGEFIELD TK_PIDEF1DETAIL_tkDEF1SURNAME } ('the Defendant').

[In return, the Defendant must file at court, and send to us, a list of all documents the Defendant has, or has had, relating to the claim. We may well obtain useful information from such documents disclosed by the Defendant.]

Disclosure is a very important part of the preparation of the case for a final hearing, if necessary. Accordingly it is essential that the list of documents sent out on your behalf complies with the requirements of the court. As you will need to sign the list confirming that you have

{INCLUDETEXT

"C:\\Users\\rebecca\\AppData\\Local\\Packages\\PraccticeLimited.OspreyApproachSupervisor
App_expxx2x1s6rv4\\LocalState\\OspreyDocuments\\aa34c414-b8f7-421d-9725-869e26433494\\footer.doc"}

complied with these requirements, it is important that I explain in some detail exactly what the court expects.

1. The documents to be disclosed

(1) The court expects disclosure of:

- (i) documents on which you rely; and
- (ii) documents which adversely affect your case; and
- (iii) documents which adversely affect the Defendant's case; and
- (iv) documents which support the Defendant's case.

Either

[If you refer back to the letter I sent you detailing points raised in the Defence, you will know the main issues in the case, which should help identify documents which support or adversely affect any party's case.]

Or

[In a case of this kind the court will however expect disclosure only of such documents which relate to claims for financial losses and expenses arising out of the injuries.]

(2) The term 'documents' includes any:

- (i) written documents;
- (ii) photographs;
- (iii) video recordings;
- (iv) tape recordings;
- (v) computer records;
- (vi) e-mails;
- (vii) other permanent or semi-permanent records.

(3) However only documents in your control have to be disclosed. The court regards a document as being in your control if:

- (i) it is in your physical possession; or
- (ii) you have, or have had, a right to physical possession of the document; or
- (iii) you have, or have had, a right to see or take copies of the document.

(4) In a case of this kind typical documents which would be relevant and ought to be disclosed would include:

- (i) receipts for any property damaged in the accident;
- (ii) receipts for any expenditure incurred as a result of the injuries;
- [(iii) any documentation relating to how the injuries were suffered;]
- [(iv) any contract or written particulars of terms of employment;
- (v) safety literature;]
- [(vi) tax documentation;
- (vii) State benefit documentation;
- (viii) pay slips or pay advices.]

You do not need to let me have letters or other documents I have sent you as of course copies are in my file, and I am arranging to include these where appropriate, in the list.

2. The duty of search

- (1) The court expects a reasonable search to be made for documents.
- (2) In particular I need to know if you have not undertaken any search for:
 - (i) documents pre-dating a particular date;
 - (ii) documents which may be at any particular location;
 - (iii) documents in any particular category.

Unless I hear from you to the contrary I shall assume the search has not been limited in any such way.

3. The format of the list

- (1) The list must disclose any documents in your control, including any that have come into existence since the case began. Accordingly if you do have any further documents, please could you let me have them without delay.
- (2) The list must also disclose any documents you have had but no longer have, with details of:
 - (i) a description of any such documents; and
 - (ii) what has happened to those documents.

If there are any such documents please can you let me have the necessary details. Unless I hear from you accordingly I shall assume there are no such documents.

I am sorry to have to write at some length on this stage of the case, but it is important to stress that the court expects disclosure of relevant documents to be dealt with very carefully.

Based on the documentation already available to me I have prepared and enclose a draft list of documents for your approval. Once you have read this letter would you please check the draft list to ensure that all relevant documents are disclosed. If you are content that the list is complete, please sign it in the space provided on the second page and then return it to me in the pre-paid envelope also enclosed. If however there are any further documents that ought to be disclosed in the list, please could you return the draft list either amended or with a separate note attached detailing those documents so that the list can be amended ready for final approval.

If you are not sure whether further documents ought to be disclosed in the list please telephone me.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

I refer to our recent advice and now write to recap generally and offer my advice in the light of all the information now obtained.

[I have also been able to obtain the opinion of Counsel, your Barrister, on the case.]

I will deal, as I did initially, with both liability and quantum before moving on to summarise the current status and the action I now think is appropriate.

1. Liability

{ IF { MERGEFIELD TK_PIDEF1DETAIL_tkDEF1LIABADM } = "Liability Admitted" "The Defendant has admitted liability, so this should not be in dispute. Whilst, strictly, the Defendant could still defend the claim, I consider that the evidence obtained suggests that the liability of the Defendant will be established in any event." "{ IF { MERGEFIELD "TK_PIDEF2DETAIL_tkDEF2LIABADM" } = "Liability Admitted" "The Defendant has admitted liability, so this should not be in dispute. Whilst, strictly, the Defendant could still defend the claim, I consider that the evidence obtained suggests that the liability of the Defendant will be established in any event." "{ IF { MERGEFIELD "TK_PIDEF3DETAIL_tkDEF3LIABADM" } = "Liability Admitted" "The Defendant has admitted liability, so this should not be in dispute. Whilst, strictly, the Defendant could still defend the claim, I consider that the evidence obtained suggests that the liability of the Defendant will be established in any event.

" * [The Defendant has not admitted liability. However, on the information now available, my advice is that I would hope to establish that the Defendant is liable. It is, however, right to point out that the case on liability may still have to be reassessed once further information relating to the Defendant's stance is available.]

Or

* [The Defendant has not admitted liability. On the information now available, my advice is that you may succeed in showing the Defendant is liable but, equally, the Defendant may be able to defend the claim successfully. Much depends upon how a court would, ultimately, view the evidence. Nevertheless, and given the importance of the claim, it does seem appropriate to proceed, although it is right to warn you of the potential difficulties.]

Or

It is right to advise you on the usual rules relating to costs, following issue of proceedings, although those rules are modified under the terms of the conditional fee agreement you have entered. Accordingly:

- the issue of proceedings does not affect the conditional fee agreement we have already made in respect of your own costs;
- once court proceedings have been issued, you have, potentially, a liability for the Defendant's own legal costs. However, you should only have any responsibility for the costs of the Defendant if your claim were to fail or if you were to drop the claim after the issue of court proceedings. If any such liability arises then this would be met under the terms of the insurance policy you took out at the time of entering the conditional fee agreement;
- if the claim succeeds, the Defendant will have to pay the costs of the claim although this would mean the Defendant only having to pay most, and probably not all, of the costs." "

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER DESCRIPTION }

RE: Your Claim

I write to confirm that court proceedings have now been issued on your behalf and, in the near future, copies of the formal court documents detailing your claim will be received by the Defendant.

I think this is a convenient point to outline the way in which the court case will proceed and to remind you of the costs implications of court action.

I hope this will give you a clear picture of the action I will be taking on your behalf and usefully confirm some aspects of earlier advice.

1. Stages of the court process

The steps in the court process can be summarised as follows:

{INCLUDETEXT

"C:\\Users\\rebecca\\AppData\\Local\\Packages\\PraccticeLimited.OspreyApproachSupervisor
App_expxx2x1s6rv4\\LocalState\\OspreyDocuments\\fdf0f51a-ae2e-4237-a792-76a726ab8751\\footer.doc"}

(1) Details of the case

The court papers sent to the Defendant include the Particulars of Claim which set out what has happened, the effect of what has happened, and why the Defendant is blamed.

The Defendant has 14 days, from receiving the court papers, to indicate whether the claim is to be defended.

(2) The Defence

The Defendant must respond to the Particulars of Claim by a Defence. Assuming the Defendant first indicates the claim will be defended, the Defendant will have 28 days from receipt of the court papers to send out the Defence.

The Defence must confirm which parts of your claim are admitted, which parts are not admitted but not denied, and which parts are denied. The Defendant must give reasons for the matters that are denied. In this way, the Defence will define which aspects of the case have to be proved at a later stage and should help to narrow, to some extent, those issues.

If the Defendant fails to indicate within 14 days whether the claim is to be defended, or fails to send out a Defence within 28 days, I can ask the court to enter judgment in your favour. Any such judgment would finalise the question of liability in your favour, leaving only the amount of compensation to be decided by the court. This would be fixed at a hearing if terms could not be agreed in the meantime.

It is quite likely however that the Defendant, or solicitors instructed to act, will ask for further time over and above 28 days, to prepare the Defence. The Defendant should not generally have more than 42 days from receipt of the court papers to send out a Defence, although in appropriate circumstances the court may allow longer. I will let you know if this timescale is extended.

(3) Exchange of further detail on the case

Once I have the Defence I will:

- (i) write to outline the issues that have emerged;
- (ii) consider whether I need to reply to the Defence on your behalf. A reply is not normally required but sometimes fresh points can be raised in the Defence which do require comment;
- (iii) consider whether any questions need to be put to the Defendant to obtain further information on matters arising out of the Defence.

The Defendant may well send with the Defence a request for some further information on your case, and I will let you know if I need further instructions from you to deal with any such request.

(4) Allocation and case management directions

When statements of case have been exchanged, the court will ask the solicitors acting for each party to file a report. That report will detail the background to the proceedings, the issues that have arisen, the evidence that will be necessary to deal with those issues and any other matters that the court might need to make a ruling on. The purpose of this is to ensure that the issues which remain in dispute at that stage can be resolved as justly as possible. For these purposes, the court is particularly concerned to ensure that the matter is dealt with expeditiously, economically and proportionately.

The court may at that stage direct any specific issue to be determined ahead of other issues as this sometimes helps in resolving the whole case.

When the court has considered the reports a decision will be made:

- (i) allocating the case to a particular 'track'. I will explain in more detail what this involves when the allocation has taken place but briefly there are particular tracks suited to particular types of case, designed to achieve the overall objective of a just outcome;
- (ii) the court will also give appropriate directions, which again I will explain in more detail once made. The purpose of the directions is to help guide the case, again as justly as possible, through the remaining stages towards a final hearing.

(5) Disclosure of documents

The directions given by the court will normally direct all parties to give disclosure of documents.

This involves the preparation of a list containing all documents which that party has, or has had, possession of relating to the issues in the case, as these have been defined by the Particulars of Claim and the Defence. That list must also contain written confirmation that the list is complete and that it has been prepared after an appropriate search for any documents that might be relevant.

Sometimes, particularly if the issues are narrowed or there is unlikely to be any relevant documentation, the court may dispense with the need for a formal list from one or more parties but, in the meantime, I think it best to assume that disclosure will take place and to give advance warning of what this will involve.

I may well already have all relevant documents from you but to ensure that I will be ready to deal with this stage of the case promptly, it would be helpful if you could give the matter some thought, and if necessary search for any further relevant documents, so that as and when we reach this stage of the process I will be able to ask you for:

- (i) any further documents still in your possession (except for the letters and documents I have sent you as of course I already have these), including documents that have come into existence or into your possession since the claim started. If at that stage you are in doubt as to the relevance of any documents it would be best to let me have them;
- (ii) a list of any documents you once had but no longer have, relating to the case in any way, stating the identity of those documents and if known when you last had them and what became of them.

As disclosure of documents is such an important stage of the case, I will write to you again confirming what is required when we reach it.

(6) Dealing with the documents disclosed

Any party is entitled to ask for copies of documents disclosed in another's list.

Of course in accordance with the protocol, documents have already been obtained from the Defendant but I will, nevertheless be reviewing the matter once we have the Defence to see if there are any further documents which the Defendant should be disclosing. If so I will check the Defendant's list to ensure that disclosure has been given and seek copies of such documents so that I can send further copies to you for your information and comment.

If there are any further specific documents you expect the Defendant to have concerning the issues that have emerged, it would be helpful to have a list from you when we reach this stage of the case, identifying either particular documents or if necessary, categories of document.

(7) Exchange of witness statements

The court will also usually give a direction that each party must disclose to any other party the statements of any witness of fact on whose evidence it is intended to rely.

The court will generally stipulate that this exchange should take place on the same day so that no party has the advantage of seeing the other's statements first.

As I mentioned when preparing your statement, that statement is not necessarily intended for disclosure to the Defendant and before dealing with this stage of the action I shall most likely be preparing an up-to-date statement concentrating on the main issues of the case and covering any further points that may arise out of the earlier stages. Once any up-to-date statement is completed or I have decided we can rely on the existing statement, this together with any statements from other witnesses on whose evidence you rely will be sent to the Defendant. I will let you have copies of statements produced by the Defendant.

(8) Exchange of expert evidence

To assist the court in making a decision on the case it is helpful to have expert evidence – that is guidance from a suitably qualified expert to help the court in deciding any issues arising in the case.

However the court's permission is required for any party to rely on any expert evidence at a hearing. Permission to rely on expert evidence is one of the matters the court will deal with when giving case management directions (although initially the court may simply direct the arrangements for disclosure of evidence, with permission to rely on the evidence being considered once that disclosure has taken place).

I will now deal with some specific points concerning expert evidence.

(i) Expert medical evidence

I have sent to the Defendant with the court papers the medical evidence obtained from our expert/experts.

The Defendant must decide whether to agree that evidence (and medical evidence is very often agreed) or if it is not agreed, to try and identify points of disagreement by the Defence.

I hope that the medical evidence already obtained and disclosed should be all we need to confirm the injuries suffered and the effect of these, although I will let you know at the appropriate stage if I think anything further is required.

(ii) Other expert evidence

Any other expert evidence will be exchanged at or soon after the time when witness statements are exchanged. Like witness statements, it may be appropriate for reports to be exchanged, if the Defendant has corresponding evidence, on the same day.

Once the Defence has clarified the issues, I will advise you on whether I think it is necessary to rely on further expert evidence.

(iii) Agreement of expert evidence

I hope that it may be possible for the expert evidence to be agreed as the agreed opinion can then be used in written form by the court to help reach a decision. That avoids the need for oral expert evidence to be given, which usually makes any final hearing date easier to arrange.

If there should be more than one expert in any particular field, the court, with a view to encouraging agreement, will normally direct the experts to confer and prepare a joint statement either confirming agreement or identifying points of disagreement. This is very useful in helping to narrow the issues and can often help promote a settlement of the case.

(iv) Permission to rely on expert evidence

As already mentioned, the court needs to give permission before any party can rely on expert evidence at any hearing. I will ask the court for permission to rely on the expert evidence disclosed to the Defendant when the court reviews progress, although it may be that the court will not be able to deal with this or give a final decision about whether the evidence in written form should suffice until after exchange of evidence.

Once further expert evidence has been exchanged, or we can confirm that we are content to rely on the evidence already obtained, most of the preparatory stages of the case will have been dealt with and each party will have a very clear idea about the case of the other.

(9) Review

After all these preparatory stages have been dealt with, the court will expect further reports from the solicitors for the parties confirming the progress made. This is a further opportunity for the court to give any further directions that may be appropriate to ensure the case reaches a just conclusion as soon as possible.

I would hope that at or soon after this review, the court will arrange a final hearing date, if appropriate, for any issue the court considers ought to be dealt with before other issues in the case.

Whilst sometimes the court may arrange a final hearing date when first reviewing the case, it is more likely the court will give what is known as a 'trial window'. That will provide a general indication of when the case is likely to be heard so that I can, when reporting on progress to the court, confirm dates that would be convenient to those involved.

(10) The final hearing

Once a final hearing date has been arranged, I will carefully review all the evidence to offer any further advice that may be appropriate at that stage and to ensure that the case is ready to be heard.

The hearing will often deal with all the issues in the case, so that the matter reaches a conclusion there and then. However as already indicated, it may be appropriate for a particular issue to be dealt with as a preliminary, in which case some of the stages already outlined will be confined to that issue and the final hearing will be on that issue only. I will explain in more detail how issues can be dealt with separately, if this seems appropriate, when we receive the Defence or if the court directs issues to be dealt with separately.

At the final hearing a judge will read the statements of case and consider the documents, witness statements and expert evidence disclosed. The judge will then reach a decision on the issues the hearing is concerned with, so this may involve a ruling on liability, an assessment of the appropriate level of compensation, or both.

Should a final hearing be necessary, I would arrange for you to be represented, usually by a barrister.

I think it best to summarise all the stages in the case as I hope this overview will assist when I write to report to you as we deal with each stage. It may however be possible to avoid some of the stages, if the issues in the case can be narrowed and of course a settlement of the case can be achieved at any stage during the court process if suitable terms are offered by the Defendant. Should terms be agreed, the court can then be asked to make a final order in those terms without the need for a hearing which goes into the issues.

2. Timescale

At this stage, I am able to give only a very broad indication of timescale. You will gather from the stages in the court process, that it is likely to be about a month before the Defence is received and it may be a further month or so after that before the court can deal with allocation and case management directions. However once case management directions have been given we should have a much better idea of when the case is likely to reach a conclusion, as the court will normally aim to ensure any final hearing date takes place within about 6 months of those directions being given. Of course the actual timescale must depend on the circumstances of each case and the time by which the evidence required by the court to make any final decision will become available.

I will therefore provide a more detailed timetable for you once the court has had the opportunity of giving appropriate directions.

3. Negotiations and settlement

Most cases of this kind do reach settlement without the need for a hearing in which you would need to give evidence. As I have already mentioned, the issue of court proceedings does not prevent the parties reaching agreement at any stage, and the exchange of offers (either informally or on the more formal Part 36 basis) which I explained to you at an earlier stage, is just as applicable after the issue of proceedings as it is prior to those proceedings being commenced.

Accordingly, although court proceedings have been issued, it is unlikely that you will have to give evidence at any court hearing as I will deal with all the steps in the case, although you would need to attend any final hearing. The intention of issuing proceedings is essentially, to try and force a settlement of the claim sooner rather than later.

4. Costs

Finally, now that proceedings have been issued, may I remind you that there is a change in the position on costs. The principal changes are outlined below.

(1) Your own costs

The issue of proceedings does not affect the conditional fee agreement we have already made in respect of your own costs.

(2) Recovery of costs from the Defendant

If your claim succeeds, you would not usually have any significant liability for the costs of the Defendant and moreover the Defendant would have to pay most, though not all, of your legal costs.

(3) The Defendant's costs

Should the claim not succeed, the Defendant would be entitled to ask the court to order that you pay the Defendant's own legal costs. Of course you would only potentially be responsible for the costs of the Defendant if the claim were to fail or the claim were to be dropped. Should you have any such liability then this would be met under the terms of the insurance policy you took out at the time of entering the conditional fee agreement for legal expenses.

I will of course write to you further at each stage of the case, but hope this letter brings you fully up to date in the meantime and usefully summarises the action I will need to take on your behalf to deal with the stages of the court process.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

Thank you for signing the Court Forms and returning them to me.

As you will recall from my last letter, the Defendant has failed to make any acceptable offers of settlement in the claim and it became necessary to take the matter to the more formal stage of issuing court proceedings.

I confirm that having taken your instructions, the claim has now been issued in the County Court on your behalf. Once the papers are received back from the Court, they will be sent to the Defendant who then has 14 days to acknowledge the claim and then a further 14 days to file a Defence.

I will therefore update you in a month when the Defence is filed to advise further.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER DESCRIPTION }

I have now prepared the court papers setting out details of your claim against the proposed Defendant.

These papers comprise:

- (1) A Claim Form: this is the document used to start court proceedings and gives details of the parties and a summary of the claim. You will note that, in order to calculate the appropriate court fee, it is necessary to give the court an indication of the value of the claim. I should stress that this means completing the form with the top figure from the relevant band and that this figure is purely for this purpose and does not supercede the advice previously given on the estimated value of the claim.
- (2) Particulars of Claim: these give, in concise form, the factual background, the reasons why the Defendant is considered responsible and the remedy sought.

Certificate of Suitability of Litigation Friend: as { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 } is under 18, the Court Rules require that the proceedings, whilst taken in { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 }'s name, must be supported by an adult who is known as the 'litigation friend'. I believe you are the most suitable person to act as litigation friend and hope, therefore, that you are happy to act in this role. The Court Rules also provide that you must agree, in writing, to act and give the court certain assurances. It may be useful if I summarise what signature of the form means.

- (a) You are agreeing to act as the litigation friend of { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 }.
- (b) You are confirming that you have no interests which conflict with those of { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 } in the claim.
- (c) You are accepting responsibility for any liability { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 } may have for the legal costs of the Defendant in dealing with the claim. With regard to costs however, I do not think that giving this assurance will lead to any liability on your part to pay costs as:
 - (i) this concerns only the legal costs of the Defendant, as the costs of { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 } in pursuing the claim will continue to be covered by the Conditional Fee Agreement;
 - (ii) { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 } would only have liability for the legal costs of the Defendant if the claim were unsuccessful and I would hope the claim will succeed;
 - (iii) even if the claim were unsuccessful, the insurance policy, taken out when the Conditional Fee Agreement was entered, would then cover any liability { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_FORENAME_1 } { MERGEFIELD LINKNAME_SURNAME_1 } might have to pay the costs of the Defendant.

Assuming you are happy to give these assurances to the court, please sign the form in the space provided." "" }

These documents, subject to approval by you, will be sent to the court and then, in turn, to the Defendant. The documents will be accompanied by the medical evidence.

As I explained at an earlier stage, it is important that the facts stated in these documents are correct and so the court expects you to sign the forms confirming as much.

Please therefore carefully check the enclosed documents. If any amendments are required, please show these on the document concerned. If the facts in the documents are correct as presently drafted, please sign the statement to this effect on each document and then return these to me.

It is my duty to remind you that if the court took the view that any facts were stated without an honest belief in the truth of those facts, proceedings for contempt of court could be taken by the court against you. The court will expect the Defendant, similarly, to confirm the truth of any response to the claim.

I look forward to receiving the documents back, signed and approved or with appropriate amendments, as soon as possible. Once the documents are signed and approved, I will be able to commence court proceedings and outline to you how the matter will then proceed.

Yours sincerely

I enclose a copy statement I have prepared from your instructions. Please read it carefully. Occasionally there can be errors of fact or of emphasis in statements and obviously it is for you to confirm the facts are correct. Please write to me with your observations or if there are any points which cause concern. It is important that you should approve the statement for the following reasons:

If your case goes to court the statement will form the basis of your evidence, the statement will have been disclosed to our opponent. You will not be allowed to substantially depart from your statement when you give evidence. Any adverse comments or mistakes in the statement will therefore bind you.

If you write to me pointing out a mistake in the report it is always helpful to me if you can refer to the specific paragraph in the statement which contains the mistake so that I can quickly find the point you are making. Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

Following receipt of the Defence, I have received a request from the court for a report on the case and suggestions as to how the matter should now move forward. The Defendant's solicitors will have received a similar request for a report.

I am outlining to the court the background to the matter and inviting the court to make directions which I hope will help to move the case forward towards a final hearing.

To do this, the court will need to allocate the case to a track and give appropriate directions for trial.

Once this 'trial window' is known, we will have a good idea of when the hearing will take place, if a settlement cannot be agreed meanwhile.

The court may even fix a hearing date at this stage.

So that I can ensure that any hearing date or time within which the hearing date will be arranged in due course is convenient for you, and indeed other people involved in the case, I should be grateful for details of your availability during the next 12 months.

I will let you have a further report once the case has been allocated to a track and the court has given case management directions. I will then be in a position to outline in more detail any decisions made by the court on the evidence that each party can rely on, as well as the likely timescale for then dealing with progress of the case.

I expect to hear from the court within the next few weeks.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER DESCRIPTION }

I write to confirm that the court has now arranged a hearing date for your case against the Defendant and to provide information about the arrangements for that hearing.

The hearing will take place on { MERGEFIELD TK_PICOURTDETS_tkTRIALDATE\@
"d"*ordinal } { MERGEFIELD TK_PICOURTDETS_tkTRIALDATE\@"MMMM yyyy" } at { MERGEFIELD TK_PICOURTDETS_tkCIVILCRT_name }.

I would be most grateful if you could confirm you can attend and also let your witnesses know of the trial date.

The case is due to commence at { MERGEFIELD TK_PICOURTDETS_tkHEARINGTIM } on the above date although in practice it may be necessary for the hearing to begin later in the day, depending upon other work the court has to deal with on that occasion.

{INCLUDETEXT

App_expxx2x1s6rv4\\LocalState\\OspreyDocuments\\a62f37e8-274f-413c-a2bf-364a10a331a1\\footer.doc"}

Please would you be at court for say 9.15am that morning to allow sufficient time for a full review of the case before the hearing begins.

I have arranged for you to be represented by a barrister ('Counsel') at the hearing. My role has been to fully investigate and prepare your case for the final hearing whilst Counsel's role is to present the case at court.

Counsel can, as my firm has done, enter a conditional fee agreement with you so that Counsel is also acting on a 'no win – no fee' basis. Very often, when we have entered such an agreement, Counsel will agree to enter an agreement with you in the same terms. However as that will involve Counsel running the risk of being unpaid in the absence of a success under the terms of the agreement, it is right to let Counsel look at the papers (on the basis there will be no charge for doing just this) to decide whether Counsel is prepared to enter a conditional fee agreement. I should know Counsel's views on this in the near future and will report further once I hear.

I will by the hearing have completed my work on the case. Although I or one of my colleagues will be at court just in case any further matters do arise, at that stage I shall leave Counsel to deal with them at the hearing.

You are of course aware of the issues that have emerged as the case has gone through all the preparatory stages. The purpose of this final hearing is for the judge after reading each party's case, considering the documents and hearing the evidence, to reach a decision on the matters in dispute.

What happens at the Trial

On the day, please attend the Court and ensure that you and your witnesses are in smart dress. You will need to sign in with the Usher who will direct you to the correct area. Your barrister will come and find you and at the present moment I will also be attending, although depending on my other work commitments, this position may alter. If this occurs I will let you know as soon as I can, but can assure you that the barrister will be fully conversant with your case and will take care of you on the day.

When you are called into the courtroom, you will be shown to the witness box or table where a copy of the bundle will be placed. I remind you that the court room is a public forum and accordingly members of the public or press are able to attend and make a public record, save for in exceptional circumstances.

You will then be asked to take the oath. This means you have to swear to tell the truth on the holy book of your religion. If you prefer you can "affirm", that is to promise to tell the truth.

It may be helpful if I briefly summarise the procedure the court hearing will follow.

- (1) Counsel will tell the judge about the general background to the case. The judge will probably be familiar with the matter from a review of the papers relating to the case, which have already been filed at court.
- (2) You, followed by any witnesses you rely on, will give evidence. The judge may read your written statement or may ask you to give evidence confirming that statement. The Defendant's Counsel will then have the opportunity of putting any questions. This can be difficult, but the best advice I can give you is to answer the questions as honestly and as clearly as you can and try not to give very long answers. Try also to make some eye contact with the Judge if you can and if you feel that you need a comfort break when giving evidence, just ask your barrister. If you don't know the answer, simply say 'I am sorry, I do not know' rather than saying think is the right answer as you may inadvertently prejudice yourself.

- (3) The Defendant and any witnesses relied on by the Defendant will similarly give evidence and your Counsel will put any questions.
- (4) Each party's Counsel will address the judge, stressing the main points each party relies on and dealing with any points of law.
- (5) The judge will decide the case, giving full reasons for the decision.

Sometimes judges reserve their decision to a later date but I will chase this for you and advise as soon as the judgement is available if this occurs. Generally you will receive a judgement on the same day.

I hope this usefully explains what will happen on the day and if you require any further information with regard to the trial date or the trial, please do not hesitate to contact me.

In the meantime, I will continue my work on the claim and liaise with the Defendant Solicitors to produce the trial bundles and forward them to the relevant parties and to you once they are completed.

It is of course, still possible for the parties to negotiate a settlement even on the day of the hearing. Accordingly I do not rule out that possibility even at this late stage.

A complete bundle of documents relating to the case, including relevant statements and the summaries of each party's case, has now been prepared and filed at court, and I enclose a bundle for your information. Please bring the bundle of documents to court with you so that you have it to refer to if necessary during the discussions with your barrister.

Finally, for the moment, I shall be grateful if you could confirm that you and your witnesses will attend the hearing.

Yours sincerely

We thank you for your letter of * .

We will deal with the matters arising in turn.

1. Your interest

We confirm that we have noted your interest on behalf of the Defendant in this matter.

2. The Defence

We acknowledge safe receipt of the Defence.

3. Judgment

On the basis that it will be contended that your client has no real prospect of successfully defending liability, our client is making application for summary judgment, on liability, and a copy of the application notice and details of any written evidence to be relied on will follow.
Consequential case management directions will be sought.

4. Admissions made under the protocol

[We are concerned that by the Defence, the Defendant seeks to resile from admissions made under the pre-action protocol. In the circumstances our client reserves the right to apply to the court for an order striking out those parts of the Defence which conflict with admissions made previously and/or for judgment on relevant issues. Before making such an application however we should like you to have the opportunity of explaining precisely why there is a change in stance and to deal, albeit retrospectively, with matters that should have been dealt with under the protocol had the stance the Defendant now seeks to take been adopted then. This will help us assess the extent to which our client is prejudiced and hence the approach to take to the Defence as it now stands. Accordingly, would you please:

- (1) explain precisely why the Defendant seeks to resile from the admissions made previously;
- (2) advise when and in what circumstances the decision to resile was made;
- (3) produce, insofar as this is disclosable under the protocol, any further evidence taken account of in the decision to resile;
- (4) produce forthwith all documents which would have been disclosable under the protocol if the Defendant had then adopted the stance which the Defence seeks to take; and
- (5) either confirm that there are no documents the Defendant did have but no longer has, which would have been disclosable under the protocol or identify such documents with details of when, and in what circumstances, the Defendant parted with those documents and what, to the best of the Defendant's knowledge, has now become of those documents.

Please would you respond to these questions as soon as possible given that, if the stance the Defendant now seeks to take had been adopted all along, much of this information should have been provided already. We can assess the question of prejudice and hence the need for an application which, in the absence of an appropriate response, is likely to seek an order striking out those parts of the Defence inconsistent with the earlier admission.]

5. The protocol

We consider the Defendant has not complied with the protocol by [details].

The failure to comply with the protocol does of course prejudice the Claimant who has not known the full nature of the Defendant's case, despite the Claimant's case having been set out in detail in the letter of claim. This may have a bearing on the directions that are appropriate and of course in relation to costs.

Please let us know if you contend that the Defendant has complied with the protocol, giving reasons, or let us have any explanation there may be for the failure to deal with matters at the appropriate stage in accordance with the protocol.]

[6. Requirements of the Civil Procedure Rules 1998

We consider that the Defence fails to comply with rule 16.5 of the Civil Procedure Rules 1998 or paragraph 12 of the Practice Direction to Part 16. In particular:

- (1) the Defence fails to state full and adequate reasons for the denials which have been made;
- (2) the Defence fails to identify which aspects of the medical evidence relied on by the Claimant are agreed and which are not agreed;
- (3) the Defence fails to give reasons for matters in the medical evidence relied on by the Claimant which are not agreed;
- (4) the Defence fails to identify which aspects of the Claimant's claim for expenses and losses are admitted and which are not admitted;
- (5) the Defence fails to deal properly with those items of expenses and losses that are not admitted or to attach a counter-schedule.

Please rectify these matters as soon as possible.]

7. Statement of truth

We note that the Defence does not contain an appropriate statement of truth. Please remedy this promptly, failing which we reserve the right to ask the court to strike out the Defence.

8. Defendant's request for further information

Either

[We acknowledge safe receipt of the request for further information sought from the Claimant. The information you are entitled to will be given without the need for you to obtain a court order.]

Or

[We acknowledge safe receipt of the request for further information sought from the Claimant.

The information sought is not, in our view, confined to matters which are reasonably necessary for the Defendant's case to be prepared or for the Defendant to understand the case which has to be met. Accordingly, we do not think that this information is required as a preliminary to disclosure and exchange of evidence.

If after disclosure and exchange of evidence you consider that any matters remain outstanding, you will remain able to renew your request for any such information, although we think it unlikely this will be required.

Accordingly our client objects to complying with the request at this stage as it is considered disproportionate given that, for the reasons already outlined, any information provided now is likely to be duplicated and rendered unnecessary as further stages of the case are dealt with.]

9. Claimant's request for further information

We enclose by way of service a request for further information from the Defendant. We serve this request as we do not consider that the Defence complies with the requirements of rule 16.5 of the Civil Procedure Rules 1998 and we wish to be made aware of the nature of the Defendant's case now.

If you do not provide further information and/or particulars and/or relevant documents and/or factual evidence, we will assume that you intend to raise only those affirmative allegations which you have already pleaded.

10. Liability as a preliminary issue

We suggest that there be a split trial with liability to be tried as a preliminary issue. Please let us know if you disagree, giving your reasons.

11. Allocation and case management

We are now moving on to prepare for allocation and case management.

We look forward to hearing from you

Yours faithfully

A Settlement

Under the Civil Procedure Rules parties should make every effort to settle their case before the hearing. This could be by discussion or negotiation (such as a roundtable meeting or settlement conference) or by a more formal process such as mediation. The court will want to know what steps have been taken. Settling the case early can save costs, including court hearing fees.

For legal representatives only

I confirm that I have explained to my client the need to try to settle; the options available; and the possibility of costs sanctions if they refuse to try to settle.

Notes for completing an allocation questionnaire

- If the claim is not settled, a judge must allocate it to an appropriate case management track. To help the judge choose the most just and cost-effective track, you must now complete the attached questionnaire.
- If you fail to return the allocation questionnaire by the date given, the judge may make an order which leads to your claim or defence being struck out, or hold an allocation hearing. If there is an allocation hearing the judge may order any party who has not filed their questionnaire to pay, immediately, the costs of that hearing.
- Use a separate sheet if you need more space for your answers marking clearly which section the information refers to. You should write the claim number on it, and on any other documents you send with your allocation questionnaire. Please ensure they are firmly attached to it.
- The letters below refer to the sections of the questionnaire and tell you what information is needed.

A Settlement

Under the Civil Procedure Rules parties should make every effort to settle their case before the hearing. This could be by discussion or negotiation (such as a roundtable meeting or settlement conference) or by a more formal process such as mediation. The court will want to know what steps have been taken. If you think that it would be worthwhile you and the other party trying to negotiate a settlement at this stage you should tick the 'Yes' box. The court may order a stay, whether or not all the other parties to the claim agree. Even if you are requesting a stay, you should still complete the rest of the questionnaire.

More information about settlement options is available in the Legal Services Commission leaflet 'Alternatives to Court' free from any county court or the LSC leaflet line on 0845 3000 343. If you would like to find out more about mediation, and the fees charged, contact the National Mediation Helpline on 0845 60 30 809 or go to www.nationalmediationhelpline.com. Although you may appoint a mediator of your choice, if you would like the court to arrange a mediation for you please tick 'Yes'.

By ticking this box you are consenting to your contact details being passed via the Helpline to an accredited external mediation provider.

B Location of trial

High Court cases are usually heard at the Royal Courts of Justice or certain Civil Trial Centres. Fast or multi-track trials may be dealt with at a Civil Trial Centre or at the court where the claim is proceeding.

C Pre-action protocols

Before any claim is started, the court expects you to have complied with the relevant pre-action protocol, and to have exchanged information and documents relevant to the claim to assist in settling it. To find out which protocol is relevant to your claim see: http://www.justice.gov.uk/civil/procrules_fin/menus/protocol.htm

D Case management information Applications

It is important for the court to know if you have already made any applications in the claim, what they are for and when they will be heard. The outcome of the applications may affect the case management directions the court gives.

Witnesses

Remember to include yourself as a witness of fact, if you will be giving evidence.

Experts

Oral or written expert evidence will only be allowed at the trial or final hearing with the court's permission. The judge will decide what permission it seems appropriate to give when the claim is allocated to track. Permission in small claims track cases will only be given exceptionally.

Track

The basic guide by which claims are normally allocated to a track is the amount in dispute, although other factors such as the complexity of the case will also be considered. Leaflet EX305 'The Fast Track and the Multi-track, explains this in greater detail.

E Trial or final hearing

You should enter only those dates when you, your expert(s) or essential witness(es) will not be able to attend court because of holiday or other commitments.

F Proposed directions

Attach the list of directions, if any, you believe will be appropriate to be given for the management of the claim. Agreed directions for fast and multi-track cases should be based on the forms of standard directions set out in the practice direction to CPR Part 18 and form PF52.

G Costs

Only complete this section if you are a solicitor and have suggested the claim is suitable for allocation to the fast or multi-track.

H Fee

For more information about court fees please go our website www.hmcourts-service.gov.uk or pick up a fees leaflet EX50 from any county court. If you cannot afford the fee, you may be eligible for remission of the fee. More details can be found in the leaflet EX160A, which can be downloaded from our website or you can pick up a copy from any county court.

I Other Information

Answer the questions in this section. Decide if there is any other information you consider will help the judge to manage the claim. Give details in the space provided referring to any documents you have attached to support what you are saying.

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

RE: Your Claim

I write to confirm that court proceedings have now been issued on your behalf and, in the near future, copies of the formal court documents detailing your claim will be received by the Defendant.

I think this is a convenient point to outline the way in which the court case will proceed and to remind you of the costs implications of court action.

I hope this will give you a clear picture of the action I will be taking on your behalf and usefully confirm some aspects of earlier advice.

1. Stages of the court process

The steps in the court process can be summarised as follows:

{INCLUDETEXT

"C:\\Users\\rebecca\\AppData\\Local\\Packages\\PraccticeLimited.OspreyApproachSupervisor
App_expxx2x1s6rv4\\LocalState\\OspreyDocuments\\1c079545-26c5-4cec-8d59-6cb9c583da0e\\footer.doc"}

(1) Details of the case

The court papers sent to the Defendant include the Particulars of Claim which set out what has happened, the effect of what has happened, and why the Defendant is blamed.

The Defendant has 14 days, from receiving the court papers, to indicate whether the claim is to be defended.

(2) The Defence

The Defendant must respond to the Particulars of Claim by a Defence. Assuming the Defendant first indicates the claim will be defended, the Defendant will have 28 days from receipt of the court papers to send out the Defence.

The Defence must confirm which parts of your claim are admitted, which parts are not admitted but not denied, and which parts are denied. The Defendant must give reasons for the matters that are denied. In this way, the Defence will define which aspects of the case have to be proved at a later stage and should help to narrow, to some extent, those issues.

If the Defendant fails to indicate within 14 days whether the claim is to be defended, or fails to send out a Defence within 28 days, I can ask the court to enter judgment in your favour. Any such judgment would finalise the question of liability in your favour, leaving only the amount of compensation to be decided by the court. This would be fixed at a hearing if terms could not be agreed in the meantime.

It is quite likely however that the Defendant, or solicitors instructed to act, will ask for further time over and above 28 days, to prepare the Defence. The Defendant should not generally have more than 42 days from receipt of the court papers to send out a Defence, although in appropriate circumstances the court may allow longer. I will let you know if this timescale is extended.

(3) Exchange of further detail on the case

Once I have the Defence I will:

- (i) write to outline the issues that have emerged;
- (ii) consider whether I need to reply to the Defence on your behalf. A reply is not normally required but sometimes fresh points can be raised in the Defence which do require comment;
- (iii) consider whether any questions need to be put to the Defendant to obtain further information on matters arising out of the Defence.

The Defendant may well send with the Defence a request for some further information on your case, and I will let you know if I need further instructions from you to deal with any such request.

(4) Allocation and case management directions

When statements of case have been exchanged, the court will ask the solicitors acting for each party to file a report. That report will detail the background to the proceedings, the issues that have arisen, the evidence that will be necessary to deal with those issues and any other matters that the court might need to make a ruling on. The purpose of this is to ensure that the issues which remain in dispute at that stage can be resolved as justly as possible. For these purposes, the court is particularly concerned to ensure that the matter is dealt with expeditiously, economically and proportionately.

The court may at that stage direct any specific issue to be determined ahead of other issues as this sometimes helps in resolving the whole case.

When the court has considered the reports a decision will be made:

- (i) allocating the case to a particular 'track'. I will explain in more detail what this involves when the allocation has taken place but briefly there are particular tracks suited to particular types of case, designed to achieve the overall objective of a just outcome;
- (ii) the court will also give appropriate directions, which again I will explain in more detail once made. The purpose of the directions is to help guide the case, again as justly as possible, through the remaining stages towards a final hearing.

(5) Disclosure of documents

The directions given by the court will normally direct all parties to give disclosure of documents.

This involves the preparation of a list containing all documents which that party has, or has had, possession of relating to the issues in the case, as these have been defined by the Particulars of Claim and the Defence. That list must also contain written confirmation that the list is complete and that it has been prepared after an appropriate search for any documents that might be relevant.

Sometimes, particularly if the issues are narrowed or there is unlikely to be any relevant documentation, the court may dispense with the need for a formal list from one or more parties but, in the meantime, I think it best to assume that disclosure will take place and to give advance warning of what this will involve.

I may well already have all relevant documents from you but to ensure that I will be ready to deal with this stage of the case promptly, it would be helpful if you could give the matter some thought, and if necessary search for any further relevant documents, so that as and when we reach this stage of the process I will be able to ask you for:

- (i) any further documents still in your possession (except for the letters and documents I have sent you as of course I already have these), including documents that have come into existence or into your possession since the claim started. If at that stage you are in doubt as to the relevance of any documents it would be best to let me have them;
- (ii) a list of any documents you once had but no longer have, relating to the case in any way, stating the identity of those documents and if known when you last had them and what became of them.

As disclosure of documents is such an important stage of the case, I will write to you again confirming what is required when we reach it.

(6) Dealing with the documents disclosed

Any party is entitled to ask for copies of documents disclosed in another's list.

Of course in accordance with the protocol, documents have already been obtained from the Defendant but I will, nevertheless be reviewing the matter once we have the Defence to see if there are any further documents which the Defendant should be disclosing. If so I will check the Defendant's list to ensure that disclosure has been given and seek copies of such documents so that I can send further copies to you for your information and comment.

If there are any further specific documents you expect the Defendant to have concerning the issues that have emerged, it would be helpful to have a list from you when we reach this stage of the case, identifying either particular documents or if necessary, categories of document.

(7) Exchange of witness statements

The court will also usually give a direction that each party must disclose to any other party the statements of any witness of fact on whose evidence it is intended to rely.

The court will generally stipulate that this exchange should take place on the same day so that no party has the advantage of seeing the other's statements first.

As I mentioned when preparing your statement, that statement is not necessarily intended for disclosure to the Defendant and before dealing with this stage of the action I shall most likely be preparing an up-to-date statement concentrating on the main issues of the case and covering any further points that may arise out of the earlier stages. Once any up-to-date statement is completed or I have decided we can rely on the existing statement, this together with any statements from other witnesses on whose evidence you rely will be sent to the Defendant. I will let you have copies of statements produced by the Defendant.

(8) Exchange of expert evidence

To assist the court in making a decision on the case it is helpful to have expert evidence – that is guidance from a suitably qualified expert to help the court in deciding any issues arising in the case.

However the court's permission is required for any party to rely on any expert evidence at a hearing. Permission to rely on expert evidence is one of the matters the court will deal with when giving case management directions (although initially the court may simply direct the arrangements for disclosure of evidence, with permission to rely on the evidence being considered once that disclosure has taken place).

I will now deal with some specific points concerning expert evidence.

(i) Expert medical evidence

I have sent to the Defendant with the court papers the medical evidence obtained from our expert/experts.

The Defendant must decide whether to agree that evidence (and medical evidence is very often agreed) or if it is not agreed, to try and identify points of disagreement by the Defence.

I hope that the medical evidence already obtained and disclosed should be all we need to confirm the injuries suffered and the effect of these, although I will let you know at the appropriate stage if I think anything further is required.

(ii) Other expert evidence

Any other expert evidence will be exchanged at or soon after the time when witness statements are exchanged. Like witness statements, it may be appropriate for reports to be exchanged, if the Defendant has corresponding evidence, on the same day.

Once the Defence has clarified the issues, I will advise you on whether I think it is necessary to rely on further expert evidence.

(iii) Agreement of expert evidence

I hope that it may be possible for the expert evidence to be agreed as the agreed opinion can then be used in written form by the court to help reach a decision. That avoids the need for oral expert evidence to be given, which usually makes any final hearing date easier to arrange.

If there should be more than one expert in any particular field, the court, with a view to encouraging agreement, will normally direct the experts to confer and prepare a joint statement either confirming agreement or identifying points of disagreement. This is very useful in helping to narrow the issues and can often help promote a settlement of the case.

(iv) Permission to rely on expert evidence

As already mentioned, the court needs to give permission before any party can rely on expert evidence at any hearing. I will ask the court for permission to rely on the expert evidence disclosed to the Defendant when the court reviews progress, although it may be that the court will not be able to deal with this or give a final decision about whether the evidence in written form should suffice until after exchange of evidence.

Once further expert evidence has been exchanged, or we can confirm that we are content to rely on the evidence already obtained, most of the preparatory stages of the case will have been dealt with and each party will have a very clear idea about the case of the other.

(9) Review

After all these preparatory stages have been dealt with, the court will expect further reports from the solicitors for the parties confirming the progress made. This is a further opportunity for the court to give any further directions that may be appropriate to ensure the case reaches a just conclusion as soon as possible.

I would hope that at or soon after this review, the court will arrange a final hearing date, if appropriate, for any issue the court considers ought to be dealt with before other issues in the case.

Whilst sometimes the court may arrange a final hearing date when first reviewing the case, it is more likely the court will give what is known as a 'trial window'. That will provide a general indication of when the case is likely to be heard so that I can, when reporting on progress to the court, confirm dates that would be convenient to those involved.

(10) The final hearing

Once a final hearing date has been arranged, I will carefully review all the evidence to offer any further advice that may be appropriate at that stage and to ensure that the case is ready to be heard.

The hearing will often deal with all the issues in the case, so that the matter reaches a conclusion there and then. However as already indicated, it may be appropriate for a particular issue to be dealt with as a preliminary, in which case some of the stages already outlined will be confined to that issue and the final hearing will be on that issue only. I will explain in more detail how issues can be dealt with separately, if this seems appropriate, when we receive the Defence or if the court directs issues to be dealt with separately.

At the final hearing a judge will read the statements of case and consider the documents, witness statements and expert evidence disclosed. The judge will then reach a decision on the issues the hearing is concerned with, so this may involve a ruling on liability, an assessment of the appropriate level of compensation, or both.

Should a final hearing be necessary, I would arrange for you to be represented, usually by a barrister.

I think it best to summarise all the stages in the case as I hope this overview will assist when I write to report to you as we deal with each stage. It may however be possible to avoid some of the stages, if the issues in the case can be narrowed and of course a settlement of the case can be achieved at any stage during the court process if suitable terms are offered by the Defendant. Should terms be agreed, the court can then be asked to make a final order in those terms without the need for a hearing which goes into the issues.

2. Timescale

At this stage, I am able to give only a very broad indication of timescale. You will gather from the stages in the court process, that it is likely to be about a month before the Defence is received and it may be a further month or so after that before the court can deal with allocation and case management directions. However once case management directions have been given we should have a much better idea of when the case is likely to reach a conclusion, as the court will normally aim to ensure any final hearing date takes place within about 6 months of those directions being given. Of course the actual timescale must depend on the circumstances of each case and the time by which the evidence required by the court to make any final decision will become available.

I will therefore provide a more detailed timetable for you once the court has had the opportunity of giving appropriate directions.

3. Negotiations and settlement

Most cases of this kind do reach settlement without the need for a hearing in which you would need to give evidence. As I have already mentioned, the issue of court proceedings does not prevent the parties reaching agreement at any stage, and the exchange of offers (either informally or on the more formal Part 36 basis) which I explained to you at an earlier stage, is just as applicable after the issue of proceedings as it is prior to those proceedings being commenced.

Accordingly, although court proceedings have been issued, it is unlikely that you will have to give evidence at any court hearing as I will deal with all the steps in the case, although you would need to attend any final hearing. The intention of issuing proceedings is essentially, to try and force a settlement of the claim sooner rather than later.

4. Costs

Finally, now that proceedings have been issued, may I remind you that there is a change in the position on costs. The principal changes are outlined below.

(1) Your own costs

The issue of proceedings does not affect the conditional fee agreement we have already made in respect of your own costs.

(2) Recovery of costs from the Defendant

If your claim succeeds, you would not usually have any significant liability for the costs of the Defendant and moreover the Defendant would have to pay most, though not all, of your legal costs.

(3) The Defendant's costs

Should the claim not succeed, the Defendant would be entitled to ask the court to order that you pay the Defendant's own legal costs. Of course you would only potentially be responsible for the costs of the Defendant if the claim were to fail or the claim were to be dropped. Should you have any such liability then this would be met under the terms of the insurance policy you took out at the time of entering the conditional fee agreement for legal expenses.

I will of course write to you further at each stage of the case, but hope this letter brings you fully up to date in the meantime and usefully summarises the action I will need to take on your behalf to deal with the stages of the court process.

Yours sincerely

Court Staff cannot give legal advice. If you need information or advice on a legal problem you can contact Community Legal Service Direct on 0845 345 4 345 or www.clsdirect.org.uk, or a Citizens Advice Bureau. Details of your local offices and contact numbers are available via their website www.citizensadvice.org.uk

Paying the court fee

A court fee is payable depending on the type of application you are making. For example:

- To apply for judgment to be set aside
- To apply to vary a judgment or suspend enforcement
- To apply for a summons or order for a witness to attend
- To apply by consent, or without service of the application notice, for a judgment or order.

No fee is payable for an application by consent for an adjournment of a hearing if it is received by the court at least 14 days before the date of the hearing.

What if I cannot afford the fee?

If you show that a payment of a court fee would involve undue hardship to you, you may be eligible for a fee concession.

For further information, or to apply for a fee concession, ask court staff for a copy of the combined booklet and form EX160A - Court fees - Do I have to pay them? This is also available from any county court office, or a copy of the leaflet can be downloaded from our website www.hmcourts-service.gov.uk

Completing the form

Question 3

Set out what order you are applying for and why; e.g. to adjourn the hearing because..., to set aside a judgment against me because... etc.

Question 5

Most applications will require a hearing and you will be expected to attend. The court will allocate a hearing date and time for the application. Please indicate in a covering letter any dates that you are unavailable within the next six weeks. The court will only deal with the application 'without a hearing' in the following circumstances.

- Where all the parties agree to the terms of the order being asked for;
- Where all the parties agree that the court should deal with the application without a hearing, or
- Where the court does not consider that a hearing would be appropriate.

Telephone hearings are only available in applications where at least one of parties involved in the case is legally represented. Not all applications will be suitable for a telephone hearing and the court may refuse your request.

Question 6

If you do not know how long the hearing will take do not guess but leave these boxes blank.

Question 7

If your case has already been allocated a hearing date or trial period please insert details of those dates in the box.

Question 8

If your case is being heard in the High Court or a District Registry please indicate whether it is to be dealt with by a Master, District Judge or Judge.

Question 9

Please indicate in the box provided who you want the court to send a copy of the application to.

Question 10

In this section please set out the information you want the court to take account of in support of the application you are making.

If you wish to rely on:

- a witness statement, tick the first box and attach the statement to the application notice. A witness statement form is available on request from the court office.
- a statement of case, tick the second box if you intend to rely on your particulars of claim or defence in support of your application.
- written evidence on this form, tick the third box and enter details in the space provided. You must also complete the statement of truth. Proceedings for contempt of court may be brought against a person who signs a statement of truth without an honest belief in its truth.

Question 11

The application must be signed and include your current address and contact details. If you agree that the court and the other parties may communicate with you by Document Exchange, telephone, facsimile or email, complete the details Before returning your form to the court

Have you:

- signed the form on page 2,
- enclosed the correct fee or an application for fee remission,
- made sufficient copies of your application and supporting documentation. You will need to submit one copy for each party to be served and one copy for the court.

- (B) Solicitors and legal executives with over four years post qualification experience including at least four years litigation experience.
- (C) Other solicitors and legal executives and fee earners of equivalent experience.
- (D) Trainee solicitors, paralegals and other fee earners.

“Legal Executive” means a Fellow of the Institute of Legal Executives. Those who are not Fellows of the Institute are not entitled to call themselves legal executives and in principle are therefore not entitled to the same hourly rate as a legal executive.

In respect of each fee earner communications should be treated as attendances and routine communications should be claimed at one tenth of the hourly rate.

I enclose a copy statement I have prepared from your instructions. Please read it carefully. Occasionally there can be errors of fact or of emphasis in statements and obviously it is for you to confirm the facts are correct. Please write to me with your observations or if there are any points which cause concern. It is important that you should approve the statement for the following reasons.

If the case goes to court the statement will form the basis of the evidence, and the statement will have been disclosed to our opponent. You will not be allowed to substantially depart from your statement when you give evidence. Any adverse comments or mistakes in the statement will therefore bind you.

If you write to me pointing out a mistake in the report it is always helpful to me if you can refer to the specific paragraph in the statement which contains the mistake so that I can quickly find the point you are making. Please retain the enclosed statement for your own records and refer to it before you speak to anyone regarding the case or when the case finally goes to trial. Do not let anyone else see your statement.

I enclose a copy statement I have prepared from your instructions. Please read it carefully. Occasionally there can be errors of fact or of emphasis in statements and obviously it is for you to confirm the facts are correct. Please write to me with your observations or if there are any points which cause concern. It is important that you should approve the statement for the following reasons.

If the case goes to court the statement will form the basis of the evidence, and the statement will have been disclosed to our opponent. You will not be allowed to substantially depart from your statement when you give evidence. Any adverse comments or mistakes in the statement will therefore bind you.

If you write to me pointing out a mistake in the report it is always helpful to me if you can refer to the specific paragraph in the statement which contains the mistake so that I can quickly find the point you are making. Please retain the enclosed statement for your own records and refer to it before you speak to anyone regarding the case or when the case finally goes to trial. Do not let anyone else see your statement.
