Thank you for approving the Court Forms and returning them to me.

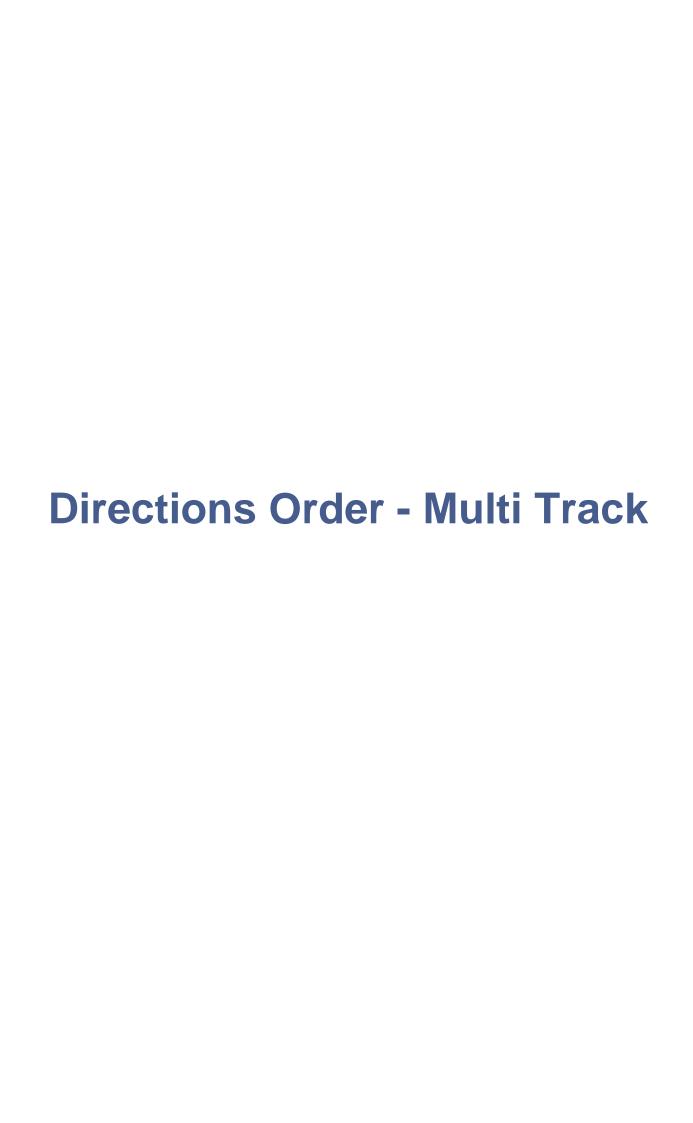

As you will recall from my last letter, the Defendant has failed to make any acceptable offers of settlement in the claim and it became necessary to take the matter to the more formal stage of issuing court proceedings.

I confirm that having taken your instructions, the claim has now been issued in the County Court on your behalf. Once the papers are received back from the Court, they will be sent to the Defendant who then has 14 days to acknowledge the claim and then a further 14 days to file a Defence.

I will therefore update you in a month when the Defence is filed to advise further.

Yours sincerely

A Settlement/Mediation

Under the Civil Procedure Rules parties should make every effort to settle their case. At this stage you should still think about whether you and the other party(ies) can settle your dispute without going to a hearing.

You may seek to settle the claim either by direct discussion or negotiation with the other party or by mediation. If settlement is reached parties may enter into a binding agreement which can be enforced if the terms of the agreement were to be breached.

Mediation is a way of resolving disputes without a court hearing, where the parties are assisted in resolving their dispute with the help of an impartial mediator. If the claim is settled at this stage the parties can avoid further court fees, costs and time involved in preparing and attending a hearing.

You may use any mediation provider. However, HMCTS provide a free confidential Small Claims Mediation Service which is available to parties in most small claims cases which are for less than £10,000.

Mediation is usually carried out by telephone in one hour time limited appointments convenient to the parties and is quicker than waiting for a court hearing before a judge. There is no obligation to use the Small Claims Mediation Service nor are you required to settle if you do. If you are unable to reach agreement with the other party at mediation, the claim will proceed to a small claims hearing before a judge.

You can get more information about mediation from www.gov.uk

If all parties agree, this case will be referred to the Small Claims Mediation Service. In any event the court may order the service to contact you to explore mediation.

A1 Do you agree to this case being referred to the Small Claims Mediation Service?

{ FORMCHECKBOX } Yes { FORMCHECKBOX } No

Please give your contact details below – If all parties agree to mediation your details will be passed to the small claims mediation team who will contact you to arrange an appointment.

The small claims track – generally for lower value and less complex claims with a value under £10,000. You can get more information by reading leaflet EX306 'The small claims track in civil courts'. You can get this leaflet online from hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk

Location

If your claim is a designated money claim the case will usually be transferred to the claimants preferred court or the defendants home court as appropriate. However, there is no guarantee of transfer to this court. For further information see CPR Parts 3, 12, 13, 14 and 26.

Expert evidence

The court must grant you permission to use an expert witness. Your notice of allocation will tell you if permission has been granted. Please note the upper limit for experts' fees that can be recovered is £750. You can get more information by reading leaflet EX306 'The small claims track in civil courts'. You can get this leaflet online from hmctsformfinder.justice.gov.uk

Witnesses

Witnesses may be asked to give evidence by either party. The court needs to have notice that you intend to call a witness. Witness expenses for travel accommodation and loss of earning should be met by the party requesting their attendance. You can get more information by reading EX342 'Coming to a court hearing'. You can get this leaflet online from hmctformfinder.justice.gov.uk

Settlement

Under the Civil Procedure Rules parties should make every effort to settle their case before the hearing. This could be by discussion or negotiation (such as a roundtable meeting or settlement conference) or by a more formal process such as mediation. The court will want to know what steps have been taken. Settling the case early can save costs, including court hearing fees.

You will no doubt recall having prepared a Medical Report dated { ASK repdate "Enter the date of the report."}{ REF repdate \@"d MMMM yyyy" \* MERGEFORMAT } on the injuries sustained by our above-named client.

We have now reached the stage where the case is finally ready to be set down for Trial. At this stage the Defendants' Solicitors have not formally agreed your Report. It may be that they will do so, but we must assume that they will not at this stage.

Would you please provide us with the following:

- 1. A list of all of the dates that must be avoided if you are to attend Court to give oral evidence:
- Your charges for attending Court, taking into account that the Trial will take place at { MERGEFIELD FW_CN_COURT_FW_CN_COURT_name };
- 3. Your cancellation charges for late notification that you are no longer required to attend Court.

We are obliged to supply the Court with these details by { ASK courtdetdate "Enter the date by which dates to Court must be supplied."}{ REF courtdetdate\@"d MMMM yyyy" \* MERGEFORMAT }, and we would therefore be grateful to receive your reply as soon as possible.

Yours Sincerely

Re: { MERGEFIELD MATTER_MATTER_DESCRIPTION }

I am now about to deal with the stage in your court case known as 'disclosure'.

In return, the Defendant must file at court, and send to us, a list of all documents the Defendant has, or has had, relating to the claim. We may well obtain useful information from such documents disclosed by the Defendant.

Disclosure is a very important part of the preparation of the case for a final hearing, if necessary. Accordingly it is essential that the list of documents sent out on your behalf complies with the requirements of the court. As you will need to sign the list confirming that you have complied with these requirements, it is important that I explain in some detail exactly what the court expects.

1. The documents to be disclosed

- (1) The court expects disclosure of:
  - (i) documents on which you rely; and
  - (ii) documents which adversely affect your case; and
  - (iii) documents which adversely affect the Defendant's case; and
  - (iv) documents which support the Defendant's case.

Either

[If you refer back to the letter I sent you detailing points raised in the Defence, you will know the main issues in the case, which should help identify documents which support or adversely affect any party's case.]

Or

[In a case of this kind the court will however expect disclosure only of such documents which relate to claims for financial losses and expenses arising out of the injuries.]

- (2) The term 'documents' includes any:
  - (i) written documents;
  - (ii) photographs;
  - (iii) video recordings;
  - (iv) tape recordings;
  - (v) computer records;
  - (vi) e-mails;
  - (vii) other permanent or semi-permanent records.
- (3) However only documents in your control have to be disclosed. The court regards a document as being in your control if:
  - (i) it is in your physical possession; or
  - (ii) you have, or have had, a right to physical possession of the document; or
  - (iii) you have, or have had, a right to see or take copies of the document.
- (4) In a case of this kind typical documents which would be relevant and ought to be disclosed would include:
  - (i) receipts for any property damaged in the accident;
  - (ii) receipts for any expenditure incurred as a result of the injuries;
  - [(iii) any documentation relating to how the injuries were suffered;]
  - [(iv) any contract or written particulars of terms of employment;
  - (v) safety literature;]
  - [(vi) tax documentation;
  - (vii) State benefit documentation:
  - (viii) pay slips or pay advices.]

You do not need to let me have letters or other documents I have sent you as of course copies are in my file, and I am arranging to include these where appropriate, in the list.

2. The duty of search

- (1) The court expects a reasonable search to be made for documents.
- (2) In particular I need to know if you have not undertaken any search for:
  - (i) documents pre-dating a particular date;
  - (ii) documents which may be at any particular location;
  - (iii) documents in any particular category.

Unless I hear from you to the contrary I shall assume the search has not been limited in any such way.

3. The format of the list

- (1) The list must disclose any documents in your control, including any that have come into existence since the case began. Accordingly if you do have any further documents, please could you let me have them without delay.
- (2) The list must also disclose any documents you have had but no longer have, with details of:
  - (i) a description of any such documents; and
  - (ii) what has happened to those documents.

If there are any such documents please can you let me have the necessary details. Unless I hear from you accordingly I shall assume there are no such documents.

I am sorry to have to write at some length on this stage of the case, but it is important to stress that the court expects disclosure of relevant documents to be dealt with very carefully.

Based on the documentation already available to me I have prepared and enclose a draft list of documents for your approval. Once you have read this letter would you please check the draft list to ensure that all relevant documents are disclosed. If you are content that the list is complete, please sign it in the space provided on the second page and then return it to me in the pre-paid envelope also enclosed. If however there are any further documents that ought to be disclosed in the list, please could you return the draft list either amended or with a separate note attached detailing those documents so that the list can be amended ready for final approval.

If you are not sure whether further documents ought to be disclosed in the list please telephone me.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely

Court: { MERGEFIELD FW_CN_COURT_FW_CN_COURT_name }

I write further to our previous correspondence.

Thank you for agreeing to give evidence in the claim being brought by { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }. I understand that you are able to give evidence about [DETAILS OF INFORMATION OR EVENTS TO BE COVERED BY WITNESS STATEMENT].

I thought it would be useful if, at this stage, I set out the steps that will be taken to prepare your witness statement. I have also included some general advice on how to prepare to give your evidence and how to deal with cross-examination by the other side's representative.

Your witness statement

Early preparation of your statement will ensure that:

- a) Your recollection is set down on paper while matters are as fresh in your mind and before they are subject to challenge;
- b) You have a proper opportunity to think about the matters and/or events you are dealing with and your evidence is presented in a clear and logical fashion;
- c) You have the chance to thoroughly consider any documents referred to in your statement;
- d) The words used in the statement are your own, you are comfortable with what you have said, and you are not committed to say anything that you do not really mean; and
- e) We can identify any areas of difficulty or concern at an early stage so that you can be properly prepared to deal with them at the hearing.

Preparing for the hearing

Once your statement has been finalised, in preparation for giving evidence at the hearing you should practise reading your statement slowly out loud a number of times. Doing this should avoid two situations that commonly make witnesses look foolish and damage their credibility:

- a) A witness who reads out their statement in a faltering fashion suggests that the words they are reading are unfamiliar. The court may conclude that the words they are hearing are not their own; or
- b) A witness contradicts their statement when they answer a question in cross-examination.

A witness who remains calm and sticks to their evidence is difficult for even a skilled cross-examiner to undermine.

Giving evidence at the hearing

When you are called to give evidence, you will be asked to take the oath. This will involve either swearing on a holy book or, if you are not religious, affirming. Our representative will then ask you to take the court through your account of what happened. They will ask questions as required. These questions will also enable you to get comfortable with the process of answering questions before the court.

Once our representative has finished asking you questions, the other party's representative will have the opportunity to cross-examine you. Since this is the part of giving evidence that most often worries witnesses, I have set out some advice below about how to give evidence effectively when being cross-examined.

After you have been cross-examined, our representative will be permitted to ask you further questions about matters that have come up during your cross-examination.

How to give evidence effectively

This is very simple: do what the oath requires of you. Tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Dealing with possibilities

You should only tell the court things you know for a fact. The cross-examiner may ask you to speculate about whether it is possible that a particular event occurred. Contrary to what is commonly assumed, you cannot refuse to answer a question merely because it is hypothetical. The issues commonly dealt with by courts often involve the consideration of hypothetical matters.

If you are asked whether something was possible, unless you tell the court how likely you think it was they will be left guessing. Therefore, if you think that there was a slight possibility of that something happening or having happened, rather than saying that it was possible you should let the court know how likely it was. For example, you could say that it was possible but would have been very unlikely.

When you can't remember something

If you have no recollection of something you are asked about, don't be tempted to tell the court what you assume must have happened as if you know it for a matter of fact. You should say that you do not recall the particular matter in issue but think it likely that a particular scenario would have happened and explain why you think that to be the case. Be honest or the cross-examiner will force you to admit you can't remember and you will look foolish for not having been honest in the first place.

Being asked for a yes or no answer

The most popular line of attack for a cross-examiner is the closed question. You will become familiar with the phrase "it's a yes or no answer". You probably won't agree.

The temptation when faced with an unreasonably restrictive question is to not answer it and instead to answer the question you think you should have been asked. However, this will make you appear evasive and unhelpful and will not endear you to the court. It is better to either answer yes or no, but to state that is not a complete answer and there are other things the court should know in order to be able to understand it. Then, the court will either let you expand your answer immediately or you will at least have brought your representative's attention to this issue as being one that you should be taken back to in re-examination.

Answer the question and avoid repetition

You should keep your answers to the questions that you are asked. You can undermine your credibility and the strength of your evidence if you take each question as an opportunity to repeat the same thing.

Dealing with the cross-examiner

Do not be tempted to argue with the cross-examiner. You will come across as being deliberately difficult and evasive, which courts hate. It is far better to stay calm and focus on dealing with the questions put to you.

If there are any matters of particular concern to you about either the evidence you are to give or that may be put to you in cross-examination you should let me know now.

So that we can start on the preparation of your statement I would be grateful if you could contact me to arrange a mutually convenient time for us to discuss.

Yours Sincerely

Thank you for agreeing to give evidence in the claim being brought by { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }. I understand that you are able to give evidence about [DETAILS OF INFORMATION OR EVENTS TO BE COVERED BY WITNESS STATEMENT].

I thought it would be useful if, at this stage, I set out the steps that will be taken to prepare your witness statement. I have also included some general advice on how to prepare to give your evidence and how to deal with cross-examination by the other side's representative.

Your witness statement

Early preparation of your statement will ensure that:

- a) Your recollection is set down on paper while matters are as fresh in your mind and before they are subject to challenge;
- b) You have a proper opportunity to think about the matters and/or events you are dealing with and your evidence is presented in a clear and logical fashion;
- c) You have the chance to thoroughly consider any documents referred to in your statement;
- d) The words used in the statement are your own, you are comfortable with what you have said, and you are not committed to say anything that you do not really mean; and
- e) We can identify any areas of difficulty or concern at an early stage so that you can be properly prepared to deal with them at the hearing.

Preparing for the hearing

Once your statement has been finalised, in preparation for giving evidence at the hearing you should practise reading your statement slowly out loud a number of times. Doing this should avoid two situations that commonly make witnesses look foolish and damage their credibility:

- a) A witness who reads out their statement in a faltering fashion suggests that the words they are reading are unfamiliar. The court may conclude that the words they are hearing are not their own; or
- b) A witness contradicts their statement when they answer a question in cross-examination.

I write further to our previous correspondence.

Thank you for agreeing to give evidence in the claim being brought by { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_FORENAME_1" } { MERGEFIELD "LINKNAME_SURNAME_1" }. I understand that you are able to give evidence about [DETAILS OF INFORMATION OR EVENTS TO BE COVERED BY WITNESS STATEMENT].

I thought it would be useful if, at this stage, I set out the steps that will be taken to prepare your witness statement. I have also included some general advice on how to prepare to give your evidence and how to deal with cross-examination by the other side's representative.

Your witness statement

Early preparation of your statement will ensure that:

- a) Your recollection is set down on paper while matters are as fresh in your mind and before they are subject to challenge;
- b) You have a proper opportunity to think about the matters and/or events you are dealing with and your evidence is presented in a clear and logical fashion;
- c) You have the chance to thoroughly consider any documents referred to in your statement;
- d) The words used in the statement are your own, you are comfortable with what you have said, and you are not committed to say anything that you do not really mean; and
- e) We can identify any areas of difficulty or concern at an early stage so that you can be properly prepared to deal with them at the hearing.

Preparing for the hearing

{INCLUDETEXT "C:\\Users\\Ben Kellett\\AppData\\Local\\Temp\\OspreyDocuments\\dbed59aa-b45f-4752-8472-1fd29dd7e815\\footer.doc"}

Once your statement has been finalised, in preparation for giving evidence at the hearing you should practise reading your statement slowly out loud a number of times. Doing this should avoid two situations that commonly make witnesses look foolish and damage their credibility:

- a) A witness who reads out their statement in a faltering fashion suggests that the words they are reading are unfamiliar. The court may conclude that the words they are hearing are not their own; or
- b) A witness contradicts their statement when they answer a question in cross-examination.

A witness who remains calm and sticks to their evidence is difficult for even a skilled cross-examiner to undermine.

Giving evidence at the hearing

When you are called to give evidence, you will be asked to take the oath. This will involve either swearing on a holy book or, if you are not religious, affirming. Our representative will then ask you to take the court through your account of what happened. They will ask questions as required. These questions will also enable you to get comfortable with the process of answering questions before the court.

Once our representative has finished asking you questions, the other party's representative will have the opportunity to cross-examine you. Since this is the part of giving evidence that most often worries witnesses, I have set out some advice below about how to give evidence effectively when being cross-examined.

After you have been cross-examined, our representative will be permitted to ask you further questions about matters that have come up during your cross-examination.

How to give evidence effectively

This is very simple: do what the oath requires of you. Tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Dealing with possibilities

You should only tell the court things you know for a fact. The cross-examiner may ask you to speculate about whether it is possible that a particular event occurred. Contrary to what is commonly assumed, you cannot refuse to answer a question merely because it is hypothetical. The issues commonly dealt with by courts often involve the consideration of hypothetical matters.

If you are asked whether something was possible, unless you tell the court how likely you think it was they will be left guessing. Therefore, if you think that there was a slight possibility of that something happening or having happened, rather than saying that it was possible you should let the court know how likely it was. For example, you could say that it was possible but would have been very unlikely.

When you can't remember something

If you have no recollection of something you are asked about, don't be tempted to tell the court what you assume must have happened as if you know it for a matter of fact. You should say that you do not recall the particular matter in issue but think it likely that a particular scenario would have happened and explain why you think that to be the case. Be honest or the cross-examiner will force you to admit you can't remember and you will look foolish for not having been honest in the first place.

Being asked for a yes or no answer

The most popular line of attack for a cross-examiner is the closed question. You will become familiar with the phrase "it's a yes or no answer". You probably won't agree.

The temptation when faced with an unreasonably restrictive question is to not answer it and instead to answer the question you think you should have been asked. However, this will make you appear evasive and unhelpful and will not endear you to the court. It is better to either answer yes or no, but to state that is not a complete answer and there are other things the court should know in order to be able to understand it. Then, the court will either let you expand your answer immediately or you will at least have brought your representative's attention to this issue as being one that you should be taken back to in re-examination.

Answer the question and avoid repetition

You should keep your answers to the questions that you are asked. You can undermine your credibility and the strength of your evidence if you take each question as an opportunity to repeat the same thing.

Dealing with the cross-examiner

Do not be tempted to argue with the cross-examiner. You will come across as being deliberately difficult and evasive, which courts hate. It is far better to stay calm and focus on dealing with the questions put to you.

If there are any matters of particular concern to you about either the evidence you are to give or that may be put to you in cross-examination you should let me know now.

So that we can start on the preparation of your statement I would be grateful if you could contact me to arrange a mutually convenient time for us to discuss.

Yours Sincerely
