A 'Multi Select' button is located next to the Fee Earner field.

Date Met - Once your Key Date has been met, place a tick in this box.

Create Diary Appointment? - For office 365 users you can place a tick in one of these boxes to create an outlook diary appointment/reminder for the Key Date

Published? - For users who have our Client portal set up, placing a tick here will allow their clients to see the key date in the portal.

Viewing your Key Dates & your Key Date Summary

You can view a list of your key dates in three places in osprey.

1. From the Home screen
2. From the Case Management Key Dates Screen
3. From the Key Date Summary screen

The Home Screen

Navigate to the Home Screen, on this screen you will see two lists for key dates, Your Key Dates and Key Dates Added by you. Your key dates shows a list of key dates with which you are associated as the fee earner, and Key dates added by you shows a list of key dates that you have created but are not directly associated with.

this will open the same details screen used when creating the key date and you can now edit any of those details except the client and matter numbers.

From the lists in the home screen you can change the Fee Earner associated with the key date, Navigate to the Home Screen. on the row of the key date you want to re-assign use the drop down list in the box under the Assign F/E column, to select a new Fee Earner, you will see a message asking if you want to proceed, click ok on this to confirm the change. This Key Date will now no longer appear in the Your Key Dates List.

Mark Key Date as Met

Once you have completed any actions associated with a key date you will want to mark that key date as being Met. This will stop any reminders and remove the key date from the lists on the Home page. The met key dates will still be visible on the key date page in the case management section.

Navigate to Case management -- Key Dates, or select the key date from the home page as previously described. All keydates that are not met will have a small red dot in the DATE MET column. Click onto the pencil icon in the EDIT column, place a tick into the Date Met box and click save. The key date will now be marked as met and will have a small green dot in the DATE MET column
